

Camille Mantelin

Planned Giving Officer, NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital

Camille Mantelin is a Planned Giving Officer at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital. Prior to joining New York-Presbyterian, she was a Major Gifts Manager at Community Solutions and an Associate Consultant with Myerberg Philanthropic Advisors. Camille made the transition to nonprofit fundraising from finance after graduating from the Master in Science in Fundraising Management at Columbia University.

She is also a Teaching Assistant for Professor Neal Myerberg in the planned giving graduate course at Columbia University. In her previous career, she was involved in investing in US leveraged loans at IKB Capital and GSC Group after her role as an Associate with Societe Generale in the Strategic Acquisition Finance group. Camille graduated from the French engineering graduate school SUPELEC and holds a M.Sc. degree in engineering from Wollongong University (Australia) and a M.Sc. degree in Finance from University Paris Dauphine.