

of New York City

Jennifer Morgan

Partner, King & Spalding, LLC

Jennifer Morgan is a partner at King & Spalding, LLP where her practice focuses on real estate private equity. Jennifer also advises pension funds and fund sponsors and other institutional partners on negotiating and structuring joint ventures and fund formations, including private real estate investment trusts and other structured investments.

Prior to returning to King & Spalding, she was a partner in the New York office of Kirkland & Ellis and an associate at Sullivan & Cromwell, LLP. She received her JD from Emory University School of Law and a BA in government from the University of Virginia. Jennifer also serves as an adjunct professor at Columbia Business School.